

During Alpha Test:

If you are reading this, you are part of the Slamstr "Alpha" test. Thank you for your participation and the list of rules is pretty short and to the point.

- 1) ONLY upload music to Slamstr, through the Upload function, that you have written yourself or that you own the copyright for. You assume all responsibility for uploaded content as we will not be solely responsible for validating it's authenticity. We only check for appropriateness
- 2) ALL content that you upload can be used for self promotion of and also by Slamstr for promotion of the site within or outside of Slamstr.
- 3) Slamstr is meant to be a discovery engine for new bands and to expose music lovers to genres and artists that they are not currently familiar with. In order to accomplish this and pay the bills, we may need to eventually sell advertising or create a pay for use model for the fans or artists themselves. All revenues that are received by Slamstr for any of these services will be assigned to Slamstr.
- 4) You certify that you have read the Community Guidelines community.slamster.com and the Privacy Policy privacy.slamstr.com and agree with all of our requirement for use of the site.
- 5) You certify that you have uploaded all content of your free will and that you have not been paid to vote for any artist to promote themselves higher on the Slamstr Rankings.
